KIDNEY TROUBLE RELIEVED IN TWO HOURS

A SPEEDY CURE.

I derived so much benefit from the use of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root that I believe it will be most important for the public to know of its worth.

Last November I was suffering severely with kidney and bladder trouble. The burning pain was terrible. I sent to you for one trial bottle of Swamp-Root and it relieved me in about two hours. After taking the small trial bottle, could feel no more pain, so purchased one fifty-cent bottle of Swamp-Root. After taking the contents have not felt one pain from the kidneys or bladder since. You are at liberty to publish this testimonial should you wish to. Yours very respectfully,

Baby's Voice

Every woman's heart responds to the charm and sweetness of a baby's voice, because nature intended her for motherhood. But even the loving nature of a mother shrinks from the ordeal because such a time is regarded as a period of suffering and danger. Women who use Mother's Friend are saved much discomfort and suffering, and their systems, being thoroughly prepared by this great remedy, are in a healthy condition to meet the time with the least possible suffering and danger. Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers; it is in no sense a remedy for various ills, but its many years of success, and the thousands of endorsements received from women who have used it are a guarantee of the benefit to be derived from its use. This remedy does not accomplish wonders but simply assists nature to perfect its work. Mother's Friend allays nausea, prevents caking of the breasts, and in every way contributes to strong, healthy motherhood. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers.

My Lady of the North

A LOVE STORY—A GRAY JACKET

Captain Wayne; indeed, I doubt if I do even now, yet I am under great obligations which I hope some day to be able to requite, at least in part. "A thousand times they are already paid," I exclaimed eagerly, forgetting for the moment the presence of her silent chaperon. "You have given me that which is more than life."

"Do not, Captain Wayne," she interrupted, her cheeks aflame. "I would rather forget. Please do not; I did not send to you for that, only to tell you I knew and understood. We must part now. Will you say good-bye?"

"If you bid me, yes, I will say good-bye," I answered, my own self-control brought back instantly by her words and manner, "but I retain that which I do not mean to forget—your gracious words of invitation to the North."

She stood with parted lips, as though she struggled to force back that which should not be uttered. Then she whispered swiftly:

"It is not my wish that you should."

Was there ever such another paradox of a woman? I knew not how to read her aright, for I scarce ever found her twice the same. Which represented the truth of her character—her cool dignity, her impetuous pride, or that gentle tenderness which belittled her so well? Which was the armor, which the heart of this fair lady of the North?

As we rode down the path to the eastward, a snowy handkerchief fluttered for an instant at the library window. I raised my hat in silent greeting, and we were gone.

CHAPTER XXXVII.

The Furling of the Flag.
The close of the long and bitter struggle had come; to those who had cast their fortunes with the South it seemed almost as the end of the world. I had thought to write of those last sad days, to picture them in all their contrasting light and shadow, but now I cannot. There are thoughts too deep for human utterance, memories too sacred for the pen. I rejoice that I was a part of it; that to the lowering of the last tattered battle-flag I remained constant to the best traditions of my house. I cannot sit here now, beneath the protecting shadow of a flag for which my son fought and died, and write that I regret the ending, for years of peace have taught us of the South lessons no less valuable than did the war; yet do I rejoice today that, having once donned the gray, I wore it until the last shot of the war voiced its grim message to the North.

Announcement is made here of the marriage of Miss Lulu Layton to Mr. Edward S. Bock Tuesday morning at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. Ex-Mayor and Mrs. Al. Layton, on Wiley street at Morgantown. The bridal couple left at once after the ceremony on the 7:59 train for a wedding trip to Coshocton, O., Columbus and other points. They expect to return to Morgantown for Thanksgiving, and will then go to Charleston where they will make their home.

The wedding was small, being witnessed only by members of the bride's family. Dr. C. Q. Jenness who married the couple, used the Episcopal ring ceremony.

Mr. Bock is a graduate of the university in both of the college of arts and sciences and the college of law. He is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa and of the Delta Tau Delta fraternities.

Mr. Bock is quite well known here as he was associated with Attorney J. E. Law a few years, then he became secretary to Judge Ira E. Robinson of the state supreme court, and recently he returned to Clarksburg to practice law. A few days ago he announced that he had formed a partnership with Thomas C. Townsend, of Charleston, former state tax commissioner, and that he would move to Charleston to continue work in his profession. He made no intimation that he was also to form a life partnership so soon with the fair lady who is now Mrs. Bock.

Bad Colds Some colds are worse than others, but they are all bad. Do not neglect them. Treat promptly, vigorously. First of all, ask your doctor about taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Then do as he says.
